All men desire peace and a cessation of these calamities, and it is certainly not the fault of Kentucky that there is not peace. We did not begin war on one side or the other, and it never would have started if Kentucky counsels had prevailed; but we are in the midst of it, and one side, the Southern Confederacy, is for dividing the Union. If this prevails, we had as well get used to war and its calamities. It is to be our trade for a century to come. There is a great deal to be settled; a thousand complicated questions to fight over; and the men who could not settle the most trifles in the Union are at the head of each section. If the Union is divided, they will retain their positions. They will never settle the merest trifle between the two parties without war. We have noticed the conduct of these men for many years past, and as long as they control the policy of the North and the South, in our judgment, peace is an impossibility.

There was no necessity for this war; neither interest nor honor required it; both were against it; yet, by the counsels of these men, it is here in all its horrors. Can the same men settle anything between the two classes of States? If, then, we are to divide, prepare for a century of war, with short intervals. The storm has broken the vessel in halves, and the two disabled parts will float about, buffeted and beaten by a thousand counter blasts that will dash them against each other. If we escape this miserable destiny, after separation, we shall be an exception in the history of nations. War will be our trade, and it is as well to get used to it. As to Republicanism, freedom, and all such historical affairs, let us give them a parting salute. They must find a home elsewhere in the world. We have become too heroic; too much for our rights. They flourish in peace, and die in war. We have no constitutional freedom now; we are under the arbitrary rules of war. Don't complain, irresponsibles, it is your destiny if you divide. If you sow, you must reap. You are not done with the evils of war; you deliberately choose them as your form of government, and they are despotic. They stop your trade, invade your fire sides, seize your persons, and owe no responsibility to any power, except force; a counter despotism no better than the other. Lincoln is a despot; let's resist, which amounts to joining Davis; and what is he but a despot, and not one of our choosing. His friends ought to go up to the Eighth District and put them to bed; and let them take a long rest before they make another experiment at freedom. They are, one and all, the most decided failures we know of.

SHIRKING IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—A writer in the Charleston Courier says:

There is in our community too great a disposition to shirk active duty. At every turn can be seen healthy, vigorous men, under 45 years of age, who are taking no defense of their own honor or interests. They shirk back because others do; some must have consequences; some families, or business, or are members of organizations which they know will not be ordered out of the city; some are legally or professionally exempt. Now this state of things is discreditable to us. The enemy is almost at our doors. In the name of common patriotism, let it cease to be. The facts which I have mentioned are unpleasant truths, but they are truths nevertheless.

AN ALABAMA VOLUNTEER.—An Alabama volunteer, quartered at the rebel camp at Corinth, Mississippi, writes to the Opelika (Alabama) Southern Republic as follows:

Took the train and arrived at Chattanooga about 4 o'clock a.m., and there we were treated more shabby by the people than at any other point on the road. They would not even sell a soldier a drink of whisky—and this we thought the unkindest cut of all. A man can go without shoes, clothes or hat, but what, in the name of common sense, is he to do without whisky?"

THE U.S. TROOPS AND THEIR FOOD.—One of the soldiers stationed at Fortress Monroe writes to the New York Times as follows:

I do not use too strong an expression: I know that of which I speak. Many of us, without fault of our own, are actually suffering from hunger; we do not get sufficient rations. With their quality we do not complain; although salt pork, beans, crackers and coffee may be slightly monotonous fare, we should be satisfied if we had enough.

THE WAR SPIRIT IN GEORGIA.—The following extract from a business letter received in New York from Georgia is published in the World:

We are all for the war here, and when the North subjugates the South there will be no one left living; our women will fight. I expect to leave in a few days for Virginia. Go with me three of my negro men, who will die by me. We are raising two regiments of negroes to act as guerrillas in Virginia."

THE WASHINGTON REPUBLICAN.—The Washington Republican has this paragraph:

The wife of the Honorable A. B. Boteler, a member of the last Congress, from Harper's Ferry district, but now a secession leader, has fled from her husband and gone to the more congenial atmosphere of Hagerstown, where she will probably remain until her husband gets over his secession proclivities. It is said that, as she left him, she remarked that "as soon as he came back into the Union she would join him."

REPORTS FROM THE SOUTH.—A workman engaged in building the custom house at Columbus, S. C., arrived at Washington on Friday. He reports that from the time he left Columbus until he reached Manassas Junction troops were pushing forward as fast as the railroads could bring them into Virginia. He states that the entire route was one line of military, and the "hardest" looking fellows he ever saw, with heads shaved to the skin, and loaded down with side and other arms. He saw at Manassas Junction Dr. Cornelius Boyle and Ex-Mayor Walter Johnson of Washington, and was indebted to the latter for a pass to the other side.

THE CINCINNATI GAZETTE.—An irrepressible organ, begins to feel belligerent, and points its guns right at Lincoln and the Cabinet. The editor says: "Politicians i. office have little faith either in the popular instinct or eternal justice. Heaven help a country when to crush out the instincts of right, and to sacrifice mankind, is set up as patriotism." He then goes on to enumerate a list of wrongs; the North has suffered from the South, and adi.

Yet our brave volunteers, who have tendered their lives to save their country, and to show that they have a country worthy of the lives of its citizens, are informed at the outset of the campaign that their first duty is to catch fugitive slaves for rebel masters, and suppress black insurrections for white insurgents. Three great generals, in command of the North, have successively proclaimed this degradation to the nation. And fugitives in the very capital, flying from masters who had plotted its destruction, to the soldiers of the Government for protection, have been stopped by their bayonets, and delivered up to masters who would gladly have assassinated every one of our men while alive or dead.

"It is only a disgraced slave that the North is called to carry on with such generous, patriotic sacrifices! Disgusted with the degrading work which he had assumed, a Democratic general took the responsibility of holding the fugitive slaves of rebels as contraband of war. His report of this course brought a diplomatic non-committal reply, instructing the general to keep an account of the labor of the fugitives, as if the Government would have it understood that it might be held accountable for the fugitive slaves that sought refuge in its arms. And who would it imply that it might be held responsible to? To their rebel masters, of course; who else would have any claim upon the Government for them?"

Now we are told, from day to day, that the Cabinet is in consultation over this question, and has failed so far to come to any conclusion."

This is what we have been looking for; and it is only the first note of disgust. If the Cabinet and generals keep up this conservative course, they will soon be set down slaves to the peculiar institution, and adjudged as traitors to right, popular instinct, and "eternal justice." So far, the administration and the generals have acted wisely, and not at all in accordance with the Abolition instincts; but this will not be satisfactory to the front column of the party that put them in power.

THE SECESSIONISTS HAVE NO PARTY IN KENTUCKY.—They can poll twenty or thirty thousand votes. There are men enough in the State to poll as many votes for or against anything for pure contrariness. If the Secessionists want to retain even what they made, they must stop their Secession newspapers. They would kill any party in the world; and by all means, stop these publishers of hand-bills; they are still worse.

THE SECESSIONISTS WERE GOING TO BEAT THE HON. JOHN J. CRITTENDEN; but the returns look very much like those voters had decided before the day of election.

Perhaps they didn't want to disgrace Capt. Simms by sending him to Washington.

Their candidates have escaped the disposer, happily, in every case, except one. We expect the first district has disgraced Burnett; the rest are all safe.

DOESN'T ANYBODY FEEL SORRY FOR OUR OLD FRIENDS?—The Secessionists were going to beat the Hon. John J. Crittenden; but the returns look very much like those voters had decided before the day of election.

Perhaps they didn't want to disgrace Capt. Simms by sending him to Washington. Their candidates have escaped the disposer, happily, in every case, except one. We expect the first district has disgraced Burnett; the rest are all safe.

Stephen A. Douglas' Will. The last will and testament of Stephen A. Douglas was filed in the office of the Judge of Probate, in Chicago, on Wednesday morning. The document is in his own handwriting, and is as follows:

"It is only a disgraced slave that the North is called to carry on with such generous, patriotic sacrifices! Disgusted with the degrading work which he had assumed, a Democratic general took the responsibility of holding the fugitive slaves of rebels as contraband of war. His report of this course brought a diplomatic non-committal reply, instructing the general to keep an account of the labor of the fugitives, as if the Government would have it understood that it might be held accountable for the fugitive slaves that sought refuge in its arms. The Election Yesterday.

The result of the election yesterday must be pleasing to the Union sentiment of our section and our country. After all the parade and flourish, all the gaudience and assumption, the "States-rights-disunion-secession party" mustered, after gathering
in from all sides and quarters, 947 votes.
This shows more conclusively than anything else the amount of capital they have been manufacturing out of small material. Had we not known better, we should have been impressed into the belief that the party of Kentucky was indeed formidable.
What they have lacked in numbers they have made up in impudence and conceit.
They are pretty well buried in this locality,
and Louisville sends greeting to the Union,
the success of our city and our State.

Mistaken in the Man.

A number of Germans in the city made a mistake yesterday in voting for Mr. Bruce.
In the Ninth ward seventeen called back to have their votes changed, but it was too late. The mistake occurred in this way:
The popular druggist, Mr. E. A. Preuss, who has long resided in the lower part of the city, and a good Union man, withheld, called for their support. The similarity of names misled them. They thought they were voting for Mr. Preuss—not Bruce.
To this error may, perhaps, be attributed one half or two thirds of the city vote for
Mr. Bruce.

We understand similar errors occurred in the Second ward, where Mr. Preuss formerly resided. Will Mr. Preuss submit to it?

CITY COURT.—Thursday, June 20.—Daniel Barker brought in from workhouse and admitted to bail.

John Starr, drunk and disorderly; own bond in $200 for three months.

John J. Felix was sworn as an attorney.
David Bengin, Jacob Stackhart and Mary
Hammann, drunk and disorderly conduct;
$100 each for three months.

Commonwealth by Mary Adkins vs Mary Fowler, peace warrant; $100 each to keep the peace toward each other for three months.

Pat Coyle, cutting William Williams with intent to kill; continued until Saturday.

CITY COUNCIL.—Both boards were in session last night, but little business of interest was transacted. The Lower Board passed a resolution authorizing the Mayor
to contract for uniforms for the Home Guard, at a cost not exceeding six dollars per man.

COUNCILMAN IN THE NINTH WARD.—W.
W. Twyman was elected to the City Council in the Ninth ward, yesterday, without opposition, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of H. H. Buchanan.

Samuel A. Miller was elected Clerk of the Board of Aldermen in their session
last night.

ROBBERTY.—A denigrant from Panola, Miss., was robbed of fifty dollars in money, on Wednesday night, on the "big" Grey Eagle, a few miles belowhere, while on her way from Henderson to Portland.

ATTEMPTED INSURRECTION.—In Monroe
county, Arkansas, about thirty miles west of Helena, says the Memphis Bulletin,
several negroes were arrested last Sunday
week, upon a charge of attempted insurrection. On Tuesday, three of the negroes, two men and one girl, were hung. One of those executed belonged to Colonial Lightfoot. He was the ringleader of the plot, which, as detailed by himself and others,
was most atrocious. The white male inhabitants were to be murdered, and females and children spared provided they did not resist. Details of what they further designed doing we forbear publishing.
Fortunately their fiendish purposes were frustrated by a discovery of the plot.

THE POPULARITY OF JOHN C. BRECKIN-RIDGE.—Lexington and Fayette, the city and county of John C. Breckinridge, responded nobly yesterday for the Union.
The people of the Ashland district have administered a most signal rebuke to Mr.
Breckinridge and his confederates. What think you of the popularity of John C.
Breckinridge in the Ashland district now?
Only 1,042 majority for John J. Crittenden over Simms in Lexington and Fayette.

PUBLIC MEETING IN THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.
We have been advised that on last night
quite an interesting meeting was held in the city of Lexington, at the hall of the Knights of the Golden Circle. Hon. John C. Breckinridge presided and the late W. E. Simms acted as Secretary.

The following resolutions were universally adopted:

Resolved. That the recent elections indicate that Kentucky intends to submit to the "perjured tyrant and usurper."

Resolved. That as Kentucky has exhibited a profound indifference to our "rights," we will "secede" to Jeff. Davis' kingdom.

Resolved. That the Knights of the Golden Circle disband, throw away their masks,
and emigrate to some more congenial clime.

Resolved. That Hon. John C. Breckinridge and Hon. L. W. Powell, though they may "secede" be requested to hold on to their offices and continue to draw "Lincoln's gold."

Resolved. That we will never again trust the d-d Dutch and Irish" or join any party founded by Blant. Duncans.

It is understood that these resolutions were prepared by Gov. Magoffin, James B.
Clay, Thos. B. Monroe, Jr. and Col. Thos.
B. Stevenson.

There was a large and fashionable picnic party, gotten up by the ladies of the First ward, on Wednesday, in the grove at Harrod's creek. The woods were made merry with the cheerful laugh and sweet songs of the handsome young ladies who honored the occasion with their presence.
In the evening they spent an hour at the water-works, and returned to the city, all having had a merry as a marriage bell."

mencement of Trinity College, Hartford, occurred on Thursday, June 27th inst. The annual meeting of the House of Convocation takes place on Wednesday, the 26th instant.

FATIGUE EDITORIAL COLLISION.—An affray occurred on Thursday morning in the streets of Leavenworth, Kansas, between
D. R. Anthony, proprietor of the "Daily Conservative," and R. C. Saterlee, of the "Daily Herald," in which several shots
were exchanged, one dangerously wounding Mr. Hamer, a bystander. Saterlee received a bullet in his right side, and died in twenty minutes.

Dear Sir: For the past several months I have been laboring under great weakness and general debility, much of the time confined to my bed, and from which I received no benefit from my physician. After using some of your blood pills and blood purifier, purchased of your agent, Mr. Wm. H. Plummer, I feel as a new person, almost entirely free from disease, and would recommend your medicines to all who are in need of so invaluable remedies.

Yours truly, MARY Y. HOFFMAN,
See Note at bottom of column d&w.

BEDFORDVILLE, Kt., August 20, 1861.

Dr. SMALLSBERGER—Dear Sir: I have to state that your Fever and Ague Antidote is daily growing into favor, and needs no putting to recommend it, as its own merits are sufficient, wherever a trial has been made. I believe it has never failed where the administration has been proceeded with in accordance with the directions. It is a pleasure to sell medicines that meet the expectation of purchasers and give satisfaction, and as such I am proud to recommend your Pills.

S. D. BUCK, Physician and Druggist, Bedfordville, Kt.

We would call particular attention to McLean's notice in another column. We add the following from the St. Louis Herald, which speaks volumes in its favor. We say to all, give it a trial:

We take especial pleasure in recommending McLean's celebrated Strengthening Cordial as an invaluable remedy for general debility and weakness. We have seen it tested in a circle under our own immediate observation, and vouch for its efficacy and worth. It is an article which should be kept constantly in every family, as it is certainly an invaluable medicine. See the advertisement in another column.

At a time when there is great fear that the stock of dry lumber, sash, doors, blinds, &c., will fail short, owing to the vast amount of improvements in Louisville, it will be interesting to the public to know that Alexander, Ellis & Co., have enlarged their factory and have now on hand several million of dry lumber. Call at their office on Main street, nearly opposite the Gulf House, or at their factory on Fulton, above Preston street.

"More precious than rubies" is health, but if we believe the advertising columns of the papers no one need be without that great desideratum; the remedies are almost as numerous as the diseases themselves, each one of the former better than its compeers.

Wright's REJUVENATING Elixir is a star of great magnitude among the myriad; it scarcely can be classed as a medicine, for it is pleasant to the taste, exhilarating and bracing in its action, and both harmless and effective in its operation upon the nervous, debilitated, weak or woe-begone victim of bad health and worse treatment. Throw away doctors' stuff and try this mighty substitute.
